County of King and Queen

We have audited the cash receipts and disbursements of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the County of King and Queen for the period of July 1, 1998, through June 30, 2000.

Our primary objectives were to test the accuracy of financial transactions recorded on the Court's financial management system; evaluate the Court's internal controls; and test its compliance with significant state laws, regulations, and policies. However, our audit was more limited than would be necessary to provide assurance on the internal controls or on overall compliance with applicable laws, regulations, and policies.

The results of our tests found the Court properly stated, in all material respects, the amounts recorded and reported in the financial management system. However, we noted weakness in internal controls and noncompliance with state laws, regulations, and policies that the Clerk needs to address as described below.

Properly Manage Accounts Receivable

The Clerk is not adequately managing the court's accounts receivable. The Clerk has not implemented proper procedures to promptly establish, monitor, and collect receivables. We found the following conditions.

- The Clerk does not promptly enter all unpaid fines and costs in the Judgment Lien Docket as required by the Code of Virginia Section 8.01-446. In 14 of 15 cases tested, judgments were not entered for up to 33 days after final disposition. The Judgment Lien Docket is an important tool for the collection of fines and costs. To maximize collections, all unpaid fines and costs should be entered into the Judgment Lien Docket Book in a prompt manner.
- The Clerk did not establish accounts receivable on the automated system immediately after the final disposition of the case as required by the Financial Management System User's Guide. In 8 of 15 cases tested, the Clerk did not set up the accounts receivable for up to 12 days after the final disposition. The Clerk should immediately establish the accounts receivable whenever fines and costs are assessed. This will help strengthen collection procedures and increase the collection of court revenue.

- In three of 15 cases tested, the Clerk did not properly document or calculate due date changes as required by Code of Virginia Section 19.2-354. We found that the Clerk sometimes alters the due dates without proper documentation. Fines and costs are due immediately upon final case disposition unless otherwise ordered by a written payment plan. The Clerk should ensure that due dates are not changed without proper documentation.

We discussed these comments with the Clerk on November 29, 2000, and we acknowledge the cooperation extended to us by the court during this engagement.
